

Bradley Chaplick Associate

B.Comm., J.D.

bchaplick@finedeo.com

905.760.1800 x271

905.760.0050

A determined litigator and advocate for just and meaningful client representation, Bradley prides himself on providing his clients with practical and effective solutions.

Bradley joined Fine & Deo in 2009, and practices in all areas of condominium law and civil litigation. He has represented clients at all levels of Ontario's civil courts and appeals. Bradley has also established a busy practice of representing condominium clients at the Human Rights Tribunal of Ontario, enforcement of condominium rules and regulations through mediation, arbitration and court applications, and collection of unpaid common expenses.

In addition to his work as a litigator, Bradley frequently acts as a chairperson for condominium meetings and provides advice and written opinions to condominium boards of directors.

Bradley brings a refreshing perspective on behalf of his clients and goes out of his way to provide creative solutions, fast and responsive service, and candid answers.

Education:

- Called to the Ontario Bar, 2009
- J.D., Queen's University Law School, 2008
- B.Comm., McGill University, Desautels Faculty of Management, 2005

Memberships:

- Canadian Condominium Institute (CCI), Member

Recognition:

- David Sabbath Course Prize in Alternative Dispute Resolution, Queen's University Law School, 2008